Discards Cap for Red Fez
Capt. Pete Johnson, of the Wilhelmina, Crossing Burning Sands of Honolulu.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)
Capt. Peter Johnson, commander of the Matson Navigation steamship Wilhelmina, the queen of the line, was badly fussed up last night, and he will tread the bridge of his vessel this morning with a new and oriental title. He became a Shriner last evening, being shown the way across the hot sands by the Honolulu Shriners, and performed his part of the ceremony bravely.

The captain was inducted into the mysteries of the ancient and Arabic order by a special dispensation. Next February when the Wilhelmina leaves San Francisco for Honolulu she will carry only fez wearers of San Francisco, the vessel having been chartered by the California temples for the trip to Honolulu and to Hilo and return to the Coast, and it was fitting that Captain Johnson should be a fez-wearer when his boat is filled with shriners.

In fact, Captain Johnson felt he would be something of an outsider if he were just a lone mason on board with everybody else a member of an Arab Patrol or some such organization.

It is a great step to take, especially if you are the lone novitiate. Captain Johnson, however, with centuries of hardy seafaring ancestors to back him up, went into the fray last night and survived the ordeal.

On the trip of the Wilhelmina in February, Captain Johnson will not wear his captain's cap, but will wear the fez of Aloha Temple, Honolulu.

CONVINCING CURE OF SKIN TORTURE

Slight Red Eruption Grew to be Terrible—Sleepless Nights and Restless Days Made Life a Burden—Was Completely Discouraged.

CUTICURA CURED AFTER 16 YEARS OF SUFFERING

"For sixteen long years I have been suffering with a bad case of skin disease. While a child there broke out a red sore on the legs that in a back of my knees, caused by a tight, colored garter. At first it seemed to be a slight affair but gradually it waxed from bad to worse, and at last I saw I had a bad skin disease. I tried many house remedies and also many widely known doctors in different cities but to no satisfactory result. The plague bothered me more in warm weather than in winter and being on my log joints it made it impossible for me to walk, and I was forced to stay indoors in the warmest weather.

"My hopes of recovery were by this time spent. Sleepless nights and restless days made life an unbearable burden. At last I was advised to try the Cuticura Remedies and I did not need more than a trial to convince me that I was on the road of success this time. I bought two sets of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills) and after these were gone I was a different man entirely. The Cuticura Remedies certainly did a great deal for me, as it changed my whole career from bad to good. I am now the happiest man that there is at least one true cure for skin diseases. Leonard A. Hewitt, 11 Nostrand Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., July 30 and Aug. 3, 1909."

Rest and peace fall upon distressed households when Cuticura enters. All that the fondest of mothers desires for the alleviation of her skin-tortured and disfigured children is to be found in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointments with Cuticura Ointment. LIAR! LIAR! LIAR!

McCandless Abusive and Almost Mixed Up in Fist Fight at Soapbox Meeting.

For the first time in the political history of Honolulu a deliberate attempt to prevent free speech from "the soapbox" was made yesterday, and it remained for L. L. McCandless, after himself being given a fair hearing, to lead the chorus that would have driven unheard from the stand a sepiabian who mounted it in order to refute certain of McCandless' statements.

Heretofore, up to the disgraceful scene at the corner of King and Bethel streets yesterday at noon, the soapbox debates have been free of rowdyism. It has been the boast of Honolulu that her political gatherings, formal or informal, were cleanly conducted. Free speech has never before been denied. Never until McCandless and his henchmen crowded against the public platform yesterday and attempted to howl down an opponent, has there been anything but fair play.

Probably yesterday's lesson will teach McCandless better, as the crowd, disgusted at his manner, hustled him and his henchmen apart, crowded them away so that the speaker could be heard, and came within an ace of giving the Democratic leader and his followers a drubbing.

McCandless was free, while on the stand, to call everyone he chose a liar. Kaho was a liar, he said. Desha was a liar, he shouted. Aylett was a liar. The advertiser was a liar. Everyone who had spoken against him and who had shown up his hollow statements and promises was a liar. The crowd heard him without protest.

Then he came down from the stand and Bill Aylett climbed up. At his first statement, McCandless shouted: "That is another lie!" When Aylett attempted to respond, McCandless, aided by an ex-saloonkeeper named Monahan, started to howl. Every time Aylett appealed for fair play the Democratic clique recommenced its catcalls and howling. Finally the majority, angered at these tactics, jammed in and broke up the Democratic circle. McCandless was separated from his saloon friend, but kept shouting as he walked his way out of the press: "Why don't that man stop lying? I have a right to keep him from speaking if he is going to lie about me."

So much talk of lying and liars excited a number of the Republicans, one of whom, William Harbottle, shouted across a score of heads: "You're a liar yourself, McCandless."

The Democratic leader grew still more excited. "I bet you a thousand dollars you can't prove it." Each struggled to get close to the other, the crowd jamming around them. "You're a liar, McCandless, and you know you are. Didn't you and Kaniho tell all over Kauai that the Queen had to mortgage all her land so that Kaho could go to Washington? You know that's a lie."

"You're a liar," yelled back the Kaneohe Statesman, "you can't prove it."

"Why did Kaho refuse to shake hands with you on Maui. Didn't he tell you to your face that you had been lying about him all over the country, and you couldn't deny it?" shouted Harbottle.

Then the two squared off and from all appearances there was a fist fight due, Harbottle struggling with those who tried to hold him and defying McCandless to come over and fight like a man.

Finally, cooler heads prevented the encounter.

It was a disgraceful scene throughout and McCandless' stock dropped several points as a result.

On the stand he attacked Kaho as a delinquent taxpayer, reading a list of unpaid taxes to show that the Delegate and the Kapiolani Estate owed the government over four thousand dollars.

He designated Desha as a man who had his hand out for money.

The Democratic leader flourished a copy of The Advertiser, in which was published the report of the meeting of the legislature at which the special income tax bill had been publicly discussed. He read from the account his own speech on that occasion.

"Read us that W. A. Kinney had to say at that time," a listener asked.

"I'm reading what L. L. McCandless said," was the Democratic candidate's obliging response.

JAPANESE FLOCK INTO NEW LAND

A Seoul correspondent says six hundred to nine hundred Japanese now reach Seoul daily, of whom one hundred remain in the capital. Thus the number of Japanese in Seoul alone increases by 3000 monthly. The annexation of Korea also appears to have encouraged the introduction of capital from Japan proper. Life testifies to the safety now felt for life and property in the peninsula. The introduction of capital is causing plans for Japan-Korean joint enterprises. Such an idea may not be realized at present, owing to the inferiority of the Koreans in knowledge and wealth, but that such plans are made can not be gratifying. Meanwhile, it is hoped that the Japanese will assume activity not only in the coast districts, but also in the interior, and engage in agriculture as well as commerce.—Japan Gazette.

BUCKLAND GETS FIRST, MOHR SECOND PRIZE

The Republican central committee yesterday declared C. R. Buckland winner of the first prize of $10 for the best catch phrase slogan for campaign uses; H. C. Mohr, the second prize of $5, and A. A. Dean, the third prize of $2.50. The phrases will be utilized during the remainder of the campaign.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS OF HALF AND QUARTER CENTURY AGO

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

His Majesty the King is an affectionate father and a good horseman. A few nights since, under the powerful impulse of parental solicitude, he performed one of the most remarkable feats of riding, perhaps the most remarkable ever accomplished in these islands. While on a pleasure excursion, passing the night at an encampment on Maui, he was aroused from sleep at midnight, by a messenger from Wailuku, bringing information that the young Prince of Hawaii, who had remained at that place, had been suddenly taken ill.

His Majesty immediately ordered horses to be saddled, and in company with two of his suite, Dr. McKibbin and Mr. Jesse Crowningsburg, started down the mountain, by moonlight, for Wailuku and arrived there, a distance of about thirty miles, in the short space of three hours and ten minutes.

Dr. McKibbin came in second, about twenty minutes after. Considering the nature of the road, half the distance being the descent of a mountain ten thousand feet in height, over rocks and tinklers and break-neck gullies, this is one of the most remarkable feats of horsemanship on record. The remainder of the party were three hours and three-quarters in reaching Makawao, a distance of sixteen miles only—and thought they had made very quick time. We are happy to state that the illness of the young Prince did not prove a serious affair.

Wheat.—The "Kano" which arrived here from Lahaina on Sunday morning, brought down eighteen hundred bushels of Maui wheat. A correspondent of the Polynesian says that the crop of wheat on Maui will amount to twenty-five thousand bushels. A gentleman from the wheat district informs us that the amount which will be for grinding will not, however, exceed twenty thousand bushels.

Mr. Editor.—Having occasion recently to visit San Francisco, I took passage in the bark "Frances Palmer," Capt. J. P. Fyfe, and returned in the same vessel, and I feel it no less a duty than pleasure to bear testimony to the good appointments of the vessel for passengers, and the sterling qualities of her commander. For more than twenty-two years I have known Capt. Fyfe by report, as an able commander, sailing from this port, but it has never before been my privilege to sail with him. My personal experience now has confirmed (in my estimation) the truth of his reported ability as an officer, and I have reason to believe that every passenger, officer and sailor would unite with me in this testimony. All the vessel's duties were performed with the regularity and quiet of clockwork, without bluster or noise. Whilst the proprietors of this line are running such vessels as the "Palmer" and the "Yankee," with such officers as Capt. Fyfe, they deserve, and I trust will receive, both the thanks and the patronage of the public. Respectfully yours, S. N. Castle.

We are sorry to hear the report confirmed that the coffee blight continues general, and that coffee growers are getting discouraged.

More New Goods! Now due per "Sea Nymph" from London, consisting of the most desirable goods for country store keepers ever imported into this market. The particulars will be given after arrival in a future advertisement. It will be the most inviting stock for native trade that could be desired. The designs of these prints, as well as of a vast amount of "Hampden" and "Nelson," are entirely new, and not copied or borrowed from the old designs of importations by other houses.—J. T. Waterhouse.

Ice—A Fresh Supply.—The Honolulu Ice Company, having received a fresh supply of the article from Boston, will hereafter supply it at the following rates: To regular monthly customers, delivered by the ice cart, in quantities not less than five pounds per day, five cents per pound. Ice sold at the ice house on Fort street, twelve pounds for one dollar. In smaller quantities the charge will be 12½ cents per pound.—C. H. Lewers.

The hive of bees which, under the auspices of the Royal Hawaiian Agricultural Society, was sent to Kona up-country of a year since, has thrived wonderfully. Its increase comprises now no less than twelve hives, all of which are doing well—besides two or three swarms which have succeeded in escaping to the woods. But little honey has been gathered as yet—attention having been chiefly directed to the increase of the bees. The honey which has been collected was of the best quality, and judging from present appearances, there is no reason why, in the course of another year or two, this delicious necessary should not be on every man's table, at a cost of not more than twenty-five cents a pound.

Salt.—We would acknowledge the receipt of a bag of very superior salt, manufactured and sent to us by Mr. S. G. Dwight of Molokai. If such salt can be made here, we see no need of importing the article. If ground and packed in small bags, it would supercede the imported table salt. Let some one introduce a salt mill.

A Hawaiian in New York.—We have received a business card of Wm. H. Armstrong, Esq., (son of Rev. Dr. Armstrong of this city), who has established himself as an attorney and solicitor in New York City. While in college, Mr. Armstrong ranked as one of the best debaters and speakers in his class, and although he has chosen a difficult sphere to practise in, yet we should not be surprised to hear of his taking the same rank in the New York bar that he possessed among his fellows in college.

A Fine Display.—The night-blooming Cereus which covers a part of the stone wall on the Punahou road, as we passed that way a few evenings since, had several hundreds of its magnificent white flowers in bloom. It was a beautiful sight. In the States, when a specimen of the flower is about to bloom forth, it is at once placed on exhibition, and a twenty-five cent fee demanded for admission to the show, which among us is gratuitous.

A Japanese fisherman captured a 435-pound Jewfish at Venice, California.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

We are pleased to note the fact that Portuguese immigration promises fairly to be resumed on a large scale. When the government recently arranged with Mr. Hoffmann for a limited number of immigrants, planters and others did not seem disposed to encourage the movement. Since then orders have been coming in quite freely, and there is every assurance of an active immigration movement. The British ship Stirlingshire has been chartered by Messrs. Hoffmann, and will sail from Liverpool for Madeira between the 10th and 15th of November to take the required number of agricultural laborers on board for this country. There is an evident disposition on the part of the Portuguese laborers to come to this country. Several families of Scotch crofters will also probably ship by the Stirlingshire.

Within the past week there has been considerable rivalry between the workmen of the blacksmith and machine shops at the Honolulu Iron Works as to their rowing abilities. It has ended in a match having been made to row a six-oared boat race, the crews to be selected from the two shops. It is for $50 a side, and will be rowed on November 16. His Majesty has kindly loaned the use of two of his boats. The blacksmiths' crew were out last night for the first time, and created a favorable impression in the presence of nearly two hundred spectators.

The new shore battery, between the Immigration Depot and the Branch Hospital, is now completed, and the guns were moved there yesterday afternoon. The battery wall runs out one hundred and fifty feet into the sea, and is one hundred feet wide, with a depth of four feet two inches. In the center a lofty flagpole has been erected.

This afternoon the new Kapiolani Home, erected in the grounds of the Branch Hospital in Kakaako, will be completed, with the exception of another coat of paint. The object of the institution is to care for children of lepers, especially those who have been removed from school, either with the disease manifest in them or on suspicion. It is also intended for the care of children of lepers now at Molokai. It will be interesting in the cause of science and humanity to know, under the watchful and special care of the noble Sisters, whether these children shall develop the disease or not.

The members of Engine Company No. 2 held a street drill last evening. Their engine was attached to the hydrant at the head of Kaunamann street, and quite a number of persons witnessed the drill.

Another large audience was present at the circus last evening, and the excellent performance warranted it. Her Majesty Queen Kapiolani, their Royal Highnesses the Princesses Likelike and Kaulani, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, His Excellency Governor P. P. Kanaoa and Col. E. W. Purvis, His Majesty's Vice-Chamberlain, occupied seats in the Royal box, which had been specially erected for the occasion.

Notice to Saloonkeepers.—You are hereby requested not to serve Antone Joseph with any spirituous liquor from this date. Kalale, wife of Antone Joseph.

Colonel George W. Macfarlane was a passenger yesterday by the Zealandia for San Francisco.

Col. Z. S. Spalding and Mr. R. A. Macfie, jr., are in town, having arrived yesterday by the "Planter."

The Volcano is reported very active at the present time. A new flow has broken out, which is already two miles in extent.

The match game of baseball on Saturday between the Royal School and Punahou College nines was won by the latter by a score of 20 to 11.

The bark Mount Lebanon is daily expected from Hongkong. She brings stone and other material to complete the new Chinese clubhouse on King street.

Our national anthem, "Hawaii Ponoi," has just been published by Scott & Co., London, in German. The title page is adorned by two Hawaiian flags, brightly colored. A copy can be seen at Oat's store.

Signor Farini and his talented opera company, with their characteristic good nature and obliging manners, gave an informal musical entertainment at the Hawaiian Hotel last evening, which charmed a select and critical audience.

The circus took in $1433 at the two performances on Saturday.

A very amusing incident occurred at the circus last night. One of the groups was dressed like an old man, and was strolling among the audience as if in an intoxicated condition, waiting his turn to be called into the ring. One of our gallant policemen did not like his unruly conduct, and without knowing who he was collared him and was taking him to lament in the Station House, when it was explained that he had got hold of the wrong man, and of course let him go.

Yesterday afternoon, by kind permission of His Majesty the King, the sisters of St. Andrew's Priory with their pupils, over a hundred in number, were shown over the Palace and grounds by Isaac Kaiana, Adjutant of the Household.

Her Royal Highness Princesses Likelike will hold her usual weekly reception this afternoon at her Waikiki residence.

The whaler Cape Horn Pigeon sails today for a cruise on the line. She has shipped a new crew of about twenty men in place of the deserters.

The American barkentine Eureka sailed October 28th for San Francisco with 3,580 bags sugar, 12 barrels coconut oil, 135 bags rice, 297 barrels bananas and 198 bales wool, valued at $28,257.
